Airport Details The Minneapolis – St. Paul International Airport has two separate terminals. The main or “Lindbergh” terminal serves most of the major air carriers, including Northwest, United, Delta, Continental, American, and US Airways.

The Humphrey terminal, which is separate from the main terminal handles mostly charter air flights.

Most major car rental agencies operate out of the Lindbergh terminal.

Fall in Minnesota

Minnesota is usually quite mild in September (50-70 degree daytime temps), although evenings can get a little cool. It is not unheard of for temperatures to dip below freezing during September. (Conversely, we could get a hot spell - you just never know.)The best advice is to dress in layers, allowing you flexibility.
